CEDRA-AGsuite is comprised of all of the above software packages which provide Surveyors, Civil Engineers, Mappers, Assessors and those involved with Utilities (sewer, water, oil, gas, electric, etc.) a wide range of functionality at a most affordable price.

CEDRA-AGsuite can be licensed in one of two modes: (a) Single User License or (b) Site License.

The Single User License fee is $1,995 while the Site license fee is $2,995. As the name indicates the single user license is intended for operation on a single computer, while the site license enables users to operate the software on as many computers as desired within a single building. Additionally, software support for the single user license is available for $350, while software support for the site license is $995. Software support is an annual subscription providing users with telephone, fax and e-mail technical support, as well as software upgrades as they become available. Software upgrades are available by download via the internet.

For those spending tens of thousands of dollars on software support the CEDRA-AGsuite software site license is an alternative that should be considered. Those who desire a wide range of functionality, such as that offered by the CEDRA-AGsuite software, will appreciate the single user license fee. Note, as you review the functionality offered by the CEDRA-AGsuite software, if there is desired functionality which is not present in the CEDRA-AGsuite software, The CEDRA Corporation will work with the client to implement said functionality. Functionality offered by CEDRA-AGsuite is available at our web site: <http://www.cedra.com>.
